OFFICIAL COUNT WILL DECIDE

Unofficial Returns Show Candidate Noone Leading Hutchins by Only One Vote

Practically complete unofficial returns give Councillor Albert Noone a lead of one vote over Senator John C. Hutchins for the Democratic nomination for governor. In a total poll of 10,789 votes, Noone has 5395 and Hutchins 5394.

Not a vote was cast in any of the four towns unreported, in the primaries of 1912 it is not improbable that no greater interest was shown this year. The towns missing are Orange, Westbury, Location, Hart's Location and Waterville, the town Democratic vote of the four for governor in 1912 being 26 votes. So in either case the change in the present standard should be inconsequential.

This morning, Secretary of State, Edward N. Pearson will give the official figures to Chairman Parrand, of the State Democratic Committee and representatives of Noone and Hutchins, after which they will be available to the public in all probability.

It is the most remarkable election contest in the history of New Hampshire and it is doubtful if there is a parallel in the country, where nearly 11,000 votes were cast for two men.

Neither of the candidates were claiming or conceding anything last night and representatives of both

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR LARGE WAR TAX (Special to The Herald)

Washington, Sept. 4.—President Wilson today asked Congress to pass a bill creating $100,000,000 additional revenue through internal taxes. He addressed a joint session of the senate and house of representatives. He suggested that immediate action be taken in order that the sources of revenue chosen should yield a steady and constant flow. The president stated that during the month of August the receipts had fallen off $10,000,000 in customs and revenues as compared with last year. It was pointed out that a continuous loss during the year would amount to between $60,000,000 and $100,000,000.

OPENS ON SEPTEMBER 16

New Hampshire College to Have Largest Entering Class in History.

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., Sept. 3.—The registrar of the college announces that present indications are that there will be at least 125 in the entering class September 16. Of these not less than thirty will be girls. This makes the new class the largest ever entering the college. Last year the entering class had but 60 members and at that time it held all records. There will also enter college this year approximately 50 men who will take the two year course in agriculture.

Work is being rushed on the new dormitory for girls and sometime next week the new $60,000 science building will be completed. A gang of workmen are now engaged in making the sewer connections and as soon as this is done the building will be practically ready for use.

B. T. Huddleson, of Dayton, Ohio, has been appointed Professor of Drawing to take charge of the department here. Professor Huddleson is a graduate of the class of 1910 of Cornell University where he took the architectural course, and since that time has been engaged in practical work.

All five of the faculty members of New Hampshire College who have been in Europe this summer will be on hand September 16 to resume their work. Professor James, head of the department of chemistry is already in Durham, having arrived recently on the Britannia, and with him came Professor A. E. Richards, head of the English department, who is now at his home in Hartford, Conn. Professor Raemussen, of the dairy department has written, President Fairchild from Hala, Denmark, that he expected to sail from Copenhagen in time to be in Durham shortly. Mrs. Helen B. Thompson, Professor of home economics, has sailed from England and will reach New York the 6th or 8th of September. Professor Whoriskey of the modern language department has reached Boston. He was in Germany when the war began and acted as voluntary aid at the office of the American consul at Hannover.

THEY HAVE NICKNAMED GULLFORD THE "SIEGE GUN."

In the ranks of the survivors of Wednesday in the National Golf championship's play there is some relief in the knowledge that "Siege Gun" no longer is left to struggle again. That is the striking title that has been bestowed upon Jesse Gullford, the young New Hampshire champion, who Wednesday was put out of the running by Roy D. Webb of Englewood, Webb winning by one up after Gullford had led by 2 up in the morning round.

"Siege Gun" is an excellent description of the driving powers which Gullford had displayed here. Last Monday he had Frederick Herreshoff trying to keep up with him in the long game, but without success. Perhaps it would have been much better for Gullford in yesterday's match with Webb if the latter had been nearer his equal in the driving game for then the Englewood man might have been "broaking his back" to keepup from the tee, with disastrous results. But Webb is a comparatively short driver and knew enough not to attempt to keep in the same general neighborhood with Gullford on the long game. Therein his wisdom reaped its own reward, for he excelled as much in the short approaches and putts as much as Gullford did from the tee and proved once more that it is the short game which counts most.

AMERICAN TOURISTS HOME ON ARABIC

Boston, Sept. 3.—Crowded with American tourists, including many Boston and New England people and a large number of school teachers, the White Star liner Arabic reached Boston this morning from Liverpool and Queenstown, docking at the Commercial Pier, South Boston, about eleven o'clock. Hundreds of friends and relatives of passengers were at the pier, while the passengers themselves, glad to be home after trying experiences abroad, crowded the decks of the liner to exchange welcomes before the ship's lines were made fast. The Arabic's list included 322 cabin and 444 steerage passengers. The cabin list was the largest that she has ever carried, and many of the passengers who were classed as cabin really were accommodated in state-rooms that under ordinary conditions are given over to the steerage. However, none had any particular complaint, except possibly at the delay in loading. Fully an hour passed before the last of the cabin passengers was able to leave the liner, as only one gangplank was in use. After crossing the gangplank the passengers had to walk in single file through a long lane of persons on the pier, while the latter scrutinized each in hope of seeing a relative or friend. The heat helped to aggravate matters but under the conditions the landing of the refugees went on as smoothly as could be expected.

The Arabic's voyage, which began with her departure from Liverpool on Aug. 25, was uneventful with the exception that every port hole and light was shaded at night with brown paper, so as to make her less conspicuous in case hostile warships were in her path. However, none was seen after the liner got beyond the Irish coast, but at intervals during the trip intercepted wireless messages indicated the presence of British men-of-war.

The Arabic would have had a hundred more passengers but for the fact that a large party from Naples failed to reach Liverpool before she sailed.

Don't fail to see the opening at fraction of the season at the Portsmouth Theatre "The Misleading Lady," a fine show.

Another Former Caddy Is the Open Golf Champion of United States

WALTER C. HAGEN

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Once again an American caddy has routed a distinguished brigade of the great golfers known to the professional world. Walter C. Hagen of Rochester, N. Y., who began his links career toting clubs at the age of 16, captured the national open championship at the Midlothian by the narrow margin of a single stroke. He had a total of 290 for the four eighteen hole rounds. Hagen won the title in a memorable race with Charles Evans, Jr., the Chicago amateur record smasher. Hagen was eight holes behind his erstwhile rival at the start of the final round. He shot at 71 in the morning and cut Hagen's lead to four strokes, the Rochester star taking 75. In the afternoon Evans went out in 35, while Hagen needed 38 and only one stroke stood between the little contenders. Hagen has a fine golfing disposition and is popular with his fellow professionals. He weighs about 160 pounds and has a powerful physique. One of the strongest points of his play is his putting. He was a pupil of H. A. Christie who formerly was professional at the Homewood Country Club. This year's tournament was the second national event in which Hagen has competed. Last year at Brookline he tied with J. M. Barnes, Macdonald Smith and Louis Teller for fourth, sixth and seventh prizes, their scores being 307.

One of the quick shifts in the tenor of the returns caused a delay and two hours later Hatchins was in the lead by 200 or 300 votes. Since then the lead has alternated from one to the other. Noon started the day yesterday with a lead of 12 votes. Early returns showed slight gains for the Peterborough candidate, until with 36 towns missing he had a margin of 45 votes.

Nightmare is a peculiar form of bad dream considered worthy of special name, being usually accompanied by a sense of extreme uneasiness or discomfort, like a weight on the chest or stomach, with tingling, tingling, tingling of motion or speech and other disturbing feelings. It is due to disturbed circulation in the chest or in the brain, which, in turn, is due to imprudent eating of late or heavy supper.

DAILY SPORT LETTER

New York, Sept. 4.—Included in many other laughable remarks uttered by Ban Johnson was a recent one in which he declared that all the teams in the American league are putting up a major-league article of baseball.

Some hard lot games are superior in quality to some of the games in which the Naps and Yanks have figured. The New York and Clevelanders at times have committed every possible baseball crime with the exception of murdering the umpire. Instead of calling a game between the Naps and Yanks a ball game they ought to call it a "brawl" game. It is enough to bring on the weans to see those two gangs of alleged ball players wallowing around a ball field and kidding themselves into believing that they are going through the motions of a real ball player.

In every league there must be tail end teams, as a matter of course. But just because two teams happen to be fighting it out for the cellar championship is no reason why the game should abound with weird pitching, wild heaven by catchers, wilder ones by the outfielders, erratic hitting, a succession of home plays and the "I don't care spirit."

The games the Naps and Yanks staged in New York recently were little better than barbaquies. The players went at their chores as if they didn't care how they did them. They kept up that spirit throughout. Even these two teams do not stack up like first class propositions, they at least could try to play ball to the best of their ability. The public, as we understand the situation, pays its money to see ball players play baseball. When it wants to see eccentric comedians it goes to a theatre.

Ban Johnson might take a look now and then at the Naps and Nats inaction. Probably like the majority of fans who have seen them, he would change his views about their being first class clubs.

Ed. Barrow, president of the International league, continues to insist that every league must cut the players' salaries, but no one is paying any attention to him. Instead of cutting salaries the various leagues continue to boost them. The majors and minors under the protection of organized figures, and under long term contracts, while the Feds, in their efforts to corral the stars of organized baseball are still holding out huge purses to the feds.

The writers who are closest to the powers in organized baseball, and therefore most unfriendly toward the Federal league are asking President Gilmore what he is going to do with the players whose places will be taken next year by the men Gilmore claims to have signed up secretly for the Feds.

They point out how terribly cruel, unfair, unkind and traitorous it will be of Gilmore to release the players who haven't made good.

Doesn't Gilmore owe those fellows something—ask these writers. They went to the Feds at the first call. They have remained loyal to the Feds. There seems nothing wrong in Gilmore's plans to release the players who haven't made good. They have been paid for their services. They knew, when they went to the Feds they would have to make a chance with the rest. And while with the Feds they have been paid well for their services. Most of them have drawn more from the Federal exchequer in one year than they would have drawn in organized baseball in two or three years.

NO QUORUM PRESENT

City Council Call off Meeting for Another Week.

The regular meeting of the Mayor and Council was called for Thursday evening but a quorum was lacking and no meeting was held.

There was little outside of routine work to be considered.

A method of raising the additional sum for the new school house was to have come up. The Mayor favors having it come out of the income but some of the Council think that it would reduce the working capital too low and favor a bond issue, which the Sinking Fund Commission could take up.

Praises This Remedy for Lung Trouble

Many people are led to believe that Lung Trouble is a disease which cannot be conquered. This is wrong, as many have fully recovered their health. A change of climate has helped some, but many more have been restored to health by breathing the freshest air, eating well-cooked, wholesome food, being temperate in their habits and adding the only qualities of Eckman's Alternative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles. Investigate this case.

Hawling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.
"Gentlemen: The spring of 1908 I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But at last, James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, Indiana, told me of your medicine. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I firmly believe that Eckman's Alternative will relieve any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage is reached."

(Amended) A. J. BETTERTWORTH, (above abbreviated; more on request). Eckman's Alternative has been tested by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Stomachic Cough and in unquenching the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling how to recover from Throat and Lung Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and in Portsmouth by Benjamin Green.

WAR OF PEOPLE, NOT OF KAISER

Germany As One Man, Says Ambassador--Brings Report Poles Have Set Up Independent Government--Russian Frontier Is Menaced By 600,000 Austrians.

Count Johann von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, announced upon his arrival here recently from Rotterdam on the steamship Noordam, that his government had been informed that Russian civil and military authorities had withdrawn from Poland and that the Poles had set up an independent government with Warsaw as its capital.

Count von Bernstorff left Berlin on August 11. At that time he said that the German government had reported that not a Russian soldier had been left in Poland. This report the Count added, was general throughout Berlin.

"I do not know what sort of government the Poles set up," he said, "nor do I vouch for the accuracy of the report. We were informed however, that the Russian army proceeding against Germany was to strike in through Russia north of Poland and invade East Prussia. This appears to have been shown by subsequent reports of the Russian invasion."

Cable dispatches from St. Petersburg two weeks ago stated that the Czar had promised autonomy to Poland in return for its support of the Russian army.

Count von Bernstorff made a plan-for fair play in this country for his Fatherland, a prediction that Germany would fight to the end and a prophecy that Japan's entry into the hostilities would mean her ultimate supremacy in the Pacific. This he said was Japan's motive for joining the conflict.

"Germany has been attacked and therefore has no responsibility for the war," Count von Bernstorff said. "The last man in the Empire we will defend our country. This war has no other object but the destruction of the German and Austrian Empires and we believe we will be able to prove to all the world that this cannot be accomplished."

The German people are as one man for this war. It is neither the Emperor's war nor a war of the officers as many have charged. It is a war of the German people. I am old enough to remember 1870 and the enthusiasm that stirred our country then. In this war the enthusiasm is ten times as great as it was then.

"The women and children and the old men have uncomplainingly come in to the fields to gather the crops--glad to give what help they can to their country. And we have wonderful crops this year. Every man, woman, and child old enough to know war means has volunteered to do some service.

"As an illustration there is a multi-millionaire in Munich who is today delivering mail from door to door. He volunteered to do a postman's work because the postman had to go to war."

His Family All Busy.

"My wife is with the Red Cross at Munich," said Count von Bernstorff, "and my son is with the Emperor's guard. All my secretaries have gone to the front, and I regret that I was not able to see active service myself."

"From the Emperor to the lowest unskilled workman in the Fatherland, Germany is united to defend herself against the treacherous and unwarranted attack by jealous Powers. The German people will fight to the finish and will be victorious in the end."

"At the outbreak of the war," he continued, "the English cut the cables to this neutral country for the sole purpose of preventing the truth from coming here. There was no excuse for that act, except the desire to deceive the people of the United States as to the true conditions of the war. But I believe Americans will prove themselves fair enough to weigh carefully all the news that comes from English and French sources."

"The calling of the Japanese into a European quarrel shows one thing above all else. It is that England does not feel very safe. The Japanese will doubtless take Kiauchow--sheer weight of numbers assures that. But by the end of the war Japan will have the supremacy of the Pacific--a thing she has striven for during many years. Japan took advantage of the situation to strike this blow for the sole purpose of acquiring this supremacy."

Taking of Liege a 'Military Feat.'

"When the true story of the assault on Liege is told Americans will have a far different opinion than that gained from the colored accounts from Belgian, French and English sources. As a matter of fact, the troops under Von Emmich which went to the assault of this strongly

WAR TAX MESSAGE FROM PRES. NT TODAY

Washington, Sept. 3.--President Wilson will appear before a joint session of Congress tomorrow after noon at 12.30 o'clock to ask for a war tax measure to raise $100,000,000 annually.

This announcement was made to days following a visit of Democratic leader Underwood to the White House in his message the President will not advise means of raising the money.

The President finished his address and showed it today to Mr. Underwood.

Mr. Wilson believes the war tax is necessary to keep the Treasury in a strong condition and make it unnecessary to call in funds advanced to banks. He will ask Congress to provide for obtaining the $100,000,000 in a way which will be felt least by the people of the country.

Arrangements were made for a joint session of House and Senate, Chairman Underwood announced that the Ways and Means Committee would meet Saturday or Monday. Suggestions for taxes are pouring into the capital and White House from every side.

fortified position numbered only between 5000 and 6000 infantry and cavalry.

"The taking of Liege was one of the greatest military feats in modern times. What was expected to take weeks was accomplished in days by two brigades. Von Emmich was slightly wounded in the leg during the attack, but did not relinquish command."

The Ambassador notes reports that the German Crown Prince had been wounded by an assassin in Berlin. Moreover, he added, the Crown Prince had never been wounded before Liege, for the simple reason that he was not at Liege, but in command of troops at the fortress at Metz.

"The last great German victory I heard of before leaving Berlin," said the Ambassador, "was one at Metz, by the army under the Crown Prince."

Invasion of East Prussia. Of the reported invasion of East Prussia, Count von Bernstorff said: "The reports of the penetration by a Russian force are probably true. That part of the German frontier is not heavily fortified. But the Russians will never cross the Vistula."

Fifteen corps of the Austrian army, each comprising 40,000 men, are now on the Russian frontier of Austria, Count von Bernstorff said.

In Germany, beside the last line of reservists, 1,300,000 men, upon whom the Government had no claim for military service, had volunteered and were enrolled in an army for home defense.

Friendliness Throughout Germany. The feeling throughout Germany toward the United States, Count von Bernstorff said, was one of great friendliness. Special trains were provided by the German Government for all American tourists in the Empire and everything possible was being done to enable them to leave the country.

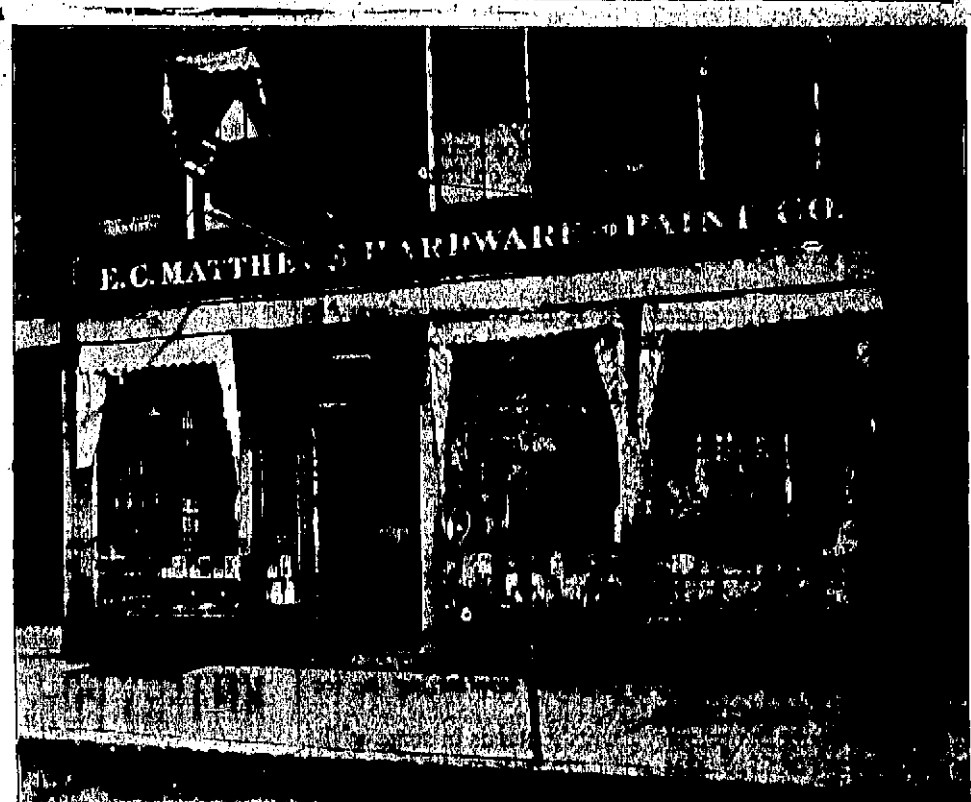

"I am told that there are 25,000 Americans in Germany," he said. "The American Embassy was filled to overflowing with tourists when I left Berlin. Ambassador Gerard and his force were working day and night to relieve their wants and the German Government was doing all possible to aid them."

Count von Bernstorff said he expected to remain in New York a day or two before going to Washington to resume his duties there.

TREATY WITH PANAMA GIVES U. S. A HARBOR

Panama, Sept. 3.--An important treaty, by the terms of which the United States gains control of the waters of the harbors of Colon and Ancon, together with certain other valuable rights, was signed here yesterday by William Jennings Bryan, the American Minister, and Ernesto T. Lefevre, Panamanian Secretary of Foreign Relations.

The new convention has been under negotiation for the last four years. Early last year the negotiations were broken off by Panama because it then seemed impossible to bring the two Governments into accord.

The instrument replaces what has been known as the Davis Agreement of June 16, 1904, in which the boundary line of the Canal Zone was tentatively fixed with the understanding that a future formal treaty would fix the delimitation permanently. It also amends the Panama Canal treaty of Nov. 18, 1903, under which the Canal Zone was acquired from Panama.

Panama, by the provisions of the convention will for the first time be placed in direct physical connection with the remainder of the country. Hitherto the capital has been cut off by the Canal Zone, which those wishing to reach other parts of the Republic had to traverse. A large tract of fertile land called "Las Sabanas" or the Savannahs, was ceded to Panama. In this territory are located many of the handsome country estates of wealthy Panamanians.

The United States acquires absolute control over all the waters of Colon and Ancon harbors and, in addition, two small islands lying in Ancon harbor which are to be used for observation and light stations by the Coast Artillery. One of these islands will be fortified. The site of Battery Hancock, on the Colon waterfront, is given to the United States as is also the control of all piers at the north entrance of the Canal ending approximately $2,500,000.

It is specially stipulated in the treaty that no railway shall be built across "the Sabanas" without the consent of the United States and that the United States may retake and occupy a portion or all of these lands if needed for the protection and defense of the Canal or its approaches. The treaty will now be sent to Washington and Panamanian Senates for ratification.

KEEP AMERICANS FROM PARIS. Washington, Sept. 3.--With the arrival in Paris of 250 Americans from Switzerland, the last to leave that country by way of France, Ambassador Herrick has asked the State Department to advise Americans not to come to Paris in the future. It is inferred that the request was prompted by the possibility that military operations about the French capital might block the railroads. Mr. Herrick has arranged a special train to carry 1000 Americans from Paris to Havre.

William H. Sharp, who is to succeed Mr. Herrick as ambassador at Paris, arrived here yesterday. He will familiarize himself with the post before taking charge. Secretary Garrison felt no apprehension about the new arrangement. Assistant Secretary Breckinridge, reported to have disappointed Mr. Garrison said his assistant was last heard from in Vienna and was probably in Switzerland now.

Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page reported to the State Department from Rome that he had secured transportation facilities for bringing all Americans out of Italy and needed and more money for relief work.

SHOULD REMAIN OVER LABOR DAY

The cruiser Montana has been ordered to leave the navy yard on Labor day much to the regret of the crew who would like to remain over Labor Day. The crew are held on duty the day they leave, which is another reason why they would rather remain here, many of them with their families.

The cruiser goes from here to New York for ammunition, but there is no great rush, as it is not wanted for any special duty.

The Long Ballot Score.

Occasional dispatches call attention to the inconvenience, if not more serious trouble, that will be experienced in some parts of the country at the coming primaries as a result of the direct primary system and the long ballots which will appear as a consequence. Not long ago it was reported that in one of the Pacific coast states there will be a ballot some twenty feet long by four or five feet wide, there being on this ballot a lot of questions to be settled by the voters under the referendum, as well as the choice of officials. But that is an election ballot where they have not only the direct primary, but the referendum.

And now it is announced that at the coming primary in Chicago, to be held September 9, there will be on the ballot for the consideration of the voters the names of 1,873 aspirants for office, and that under the law the voter is allowed two minutes for marking his ballot. It will be recognized at once that it would be a physical impossibility for any man to study such a list of names and make judicious selections in so short a time. In this long list of candidates are five for United States senator and 19 for state treasurer.

This looks like leading the voters of Chicago up against a stone wall, but the probability is that it is not quite so bad as that. It must be that there is some means by which they can inform themselves in advance as to the qualifications of at least some of the candidates and be prepared to mark their ballots without the necessity of carefully scrutinizing the formidable list of names thereon.

Without doubt the primary law as it stands in some of the states, perhaps in all of them, will have to be modified to some extent before it is found entirely satisfactory. It may never prove entirely satisfactory, but that it will be such a handicap to good government as some are predicting is hardly to be believed.

It has been a question all along whether the old system was as bad as represented, and it is a question now whether the new system is really as faulty as some are proclaiming. When all is said and done, good government comes only from good citizenship, which involves careful attention to political duties, and not from any particular system of primaries and elections.

A Good Time in Their Way.

The New Hampshire license association held an outing a few days ago, with the president of the National Association of Retail Liquor Dealers as the principal speaker. Appropriately, the outing was held at Rye Beach on a very wet day.—Laconia Democrat.

Those present say that the spirit of good cheer reigned, notwithstanding the weather.

Cyrus Came Back.

Cyrus A. Sulloway demonstrated that he could "come back" in spite of his age, and the returns as far as received indicate that he polled about as many votes as both of his opponents combined. The tall pine of the Merrimack evidently still has a strong hold on the affections of the voters of the first congressional district.—Laconia Democrat.

The Primary Farce.

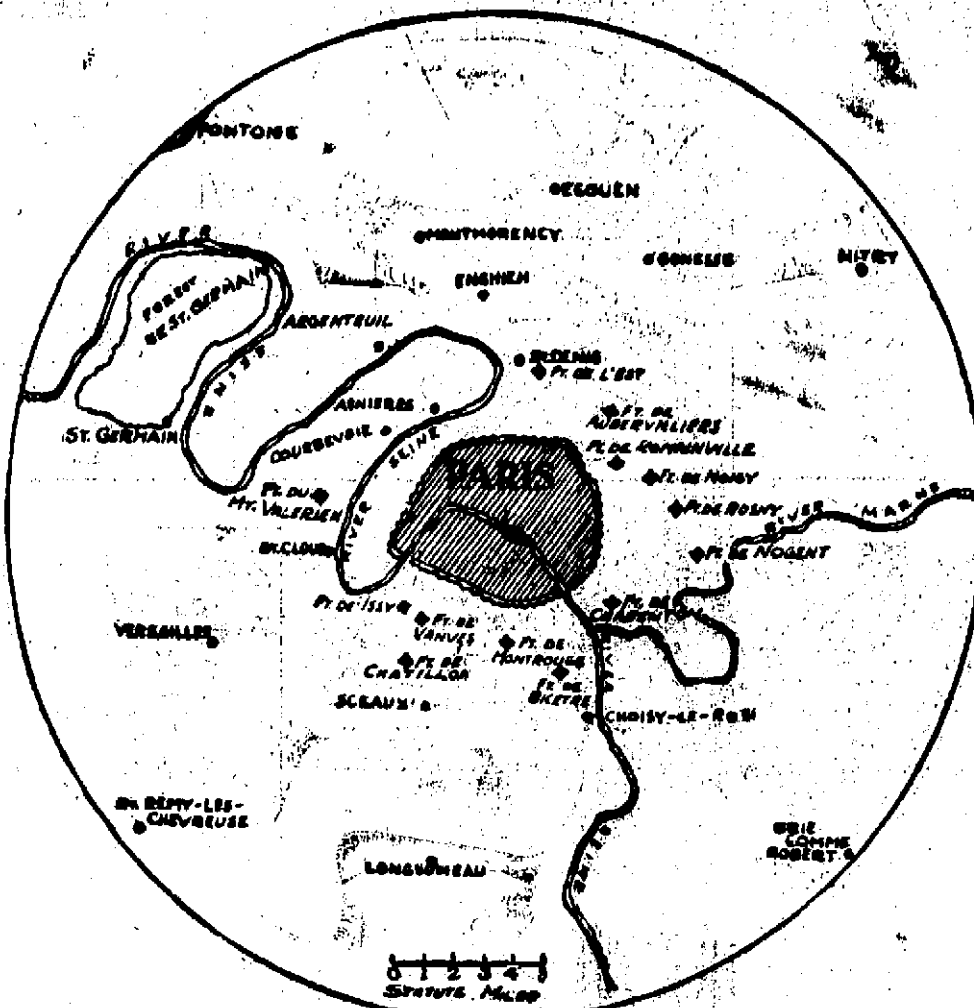

Rosecrans W. Pillsbury confesses to having expended $1910 in his recent campaign, up to within three days of the primary election; Mr. Spaulding spent $991; Judge Page, $1500; Senator Hutchins, about $1500; and Albert W. Noone about the same sum. These totals will be materially increased when the supplementary returns of expenditures are filed during the next ten days, and although none of the candidates are likely to go broke, the returns indicate that the primary system of nomination doesn't give the poor man much chance of competing against a wealthy opponent.—Laconia Democrat.

News from Washington is to the effect that passenger rates on many of the eastern railroads will be advanced in the near future. It is expected that the new rate in many cases will be three cents a mile. The interstate commerce commission favors an advance under the conditions that exist. The rates for some years have been two cents or two and a fraction, and the traveling public will distinctly feel the change. But with the increasing exactions upon the railroads and the frequent increases in wages it was bound to come.

How much are we comforted by the statement that the increase in the price of sugar will "add to the producers' purchasing power?" And, of course, the statement is true relative to all other commodities. But it is to be noticed that these things do not add to the "purchasing power" of consumers.

Louis Blériot, a celebrated aeronaut, is to establish in France a school for air pilots, with a special course in bomb dropping. The degree will probably be B. D., which the civilized world, if there is any such thing left, will translate "be damned."

Map Showing Principal Forts In Great Circle Of Defenses That Protect the City of Paris.

Paris is considered the strongest fortified city in the world. As the German army gradually pushed the allies back the city prepared for a long siege. Houses in the suburbs which obstructed the cannon fire from some of the forts were blown up. Many people hastily fled to the south. Fifty-one forts and unmasked batteries defend Paris in addition to the solid wall of masonry around the city proper. The Germans besieged and starved the city into surrender in 1871, but conditions are different now. Figures show that nearly $500,000,000 has been spent in building new forts and remodeling old ones. The forts have a sweep of eighty-five miles and protect 600 square miles.

CURRENT OPINION

BUSY, WE MISS THE FINER THINGS OF LIFE

A soldier who is on picket duty does not dare to leave his post, even though it be to help a messmate. There is such a thing as being too busy with things that are useful and right in themselves that one loses the more important and finer things of life.

In a boom town the people are always busy. We are in a boom country and are the busiest people in the world. "This is my busy day" is a common office sign. Every invention makes us more busy. The telephone and automobile, often called time savers, have increased our activities.

The danger of this busy age is that business men will be so busy making money that they will neglect their families, they will fail to look up at the sky, and will forget God.—By Rev. L. F. W. Leshmair of Chicago.

ADVERTISING AS A BUSINESS TONIC.

Man or woman in splendid physical condition needs no tonic. But every now and then the best physique reaches a point where it needs toning up. And so it is with business. No matter how strong the foundation, there are times—due to local, national, atmospheric, or other conditions—when it must stimulate trade.

Advertising is in lagging business what a tonic is to a run-down body. It gives new life, new vigor, new opportunities, a new outlook. It is as necessary to invigorate your store and your stock with the tonic of advertising as it is necessary for us to renew our failing strength with herbs and tea. Advertising is the impetus that sets the business whirl of activity in motion.

THE AUSTRIAN ARMY PRACTICALLY ANNIHILATED

Russians Have Carried Everything Before Them--Now Pushing Fresh Troops Into Germany.

Petrograd, Russia, Sept. 3.—Route 1 with heavy losses, the main Austrian army was reported today falling back in disorder on its first line of fortifications behind Lemberg. It is expected a second stand will be made along the defenses of the San river, with the headquarters at the fortified positions of Przemyśl and Jarosław.

The reserve Austrian line was reported to extend from the Carpathian mountains, between the headquarters of the San nearly to Annapol.

The Austrian army in left Russian Poland was the only part of the line that has held, and it was today being subjected to enormous pressure, heavy reinforcements having been sent to the army operating against it. As a result of the last eight days of fighting five of the crack Austrian army corps, the 3d, 7th, 11th, 12th and 14th, have been practically annihilated. Their reserve supplies of ammunition, 150 guns of all calibres, field equipment and field supplies of all descriptions have been captured. Thousands of prisoners, including many officers of high rank, have been captured.

Koenigsberg, Rortie Falls.
The German garrison of Koenigsberg, a sortie in force against the Russian forces which have isolated the Citadel. They were driven back with very heavy losses. The official reports issued today describe the situation everywhere as "critical." The Russian army at the front is being constantly reinforced from the active army mobilized at the interior centers, and the two corps which in the fighting in East Prussia last week have been replaced with fresh troops.

The fall of the Germans from Koenigsberg was a desperate one. Under cover of the darkness the Russian army had thrown their entire strength against the beleaguering forces. They had automatic guns mounted on automobiles which they used with deadly effect. The Russian forces, it is announced, fought with desperate bravery and finally checked the Austrians. The Germans finally retreated to the Citadel, leaving many dead and wounded behind. Their losses are described as enormous.

The Novoe Vremya charges that the Austrian troops which have been bombarding Belgrade, in total disregard of the Red Cross flag flying over a maternity hospital there, shelled the building and killed more than 100 babies. It declares this charge was substantiated by a staff correspondent who made an investigation.

EXPECTS SIGNAL VICTORY

London, Sept. 3.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Post sends the following on the operations on the Russian front:

"Russia is scoring success after success against Austria and is momentarily expecting news of a signal victory.

"The commander in chief on the Austrian front apparently plans to drive in strongly with an army from the east, starting from the Russian provinces adjoining Roumania, and in the mean time merely aims to restrain the Austrian advances into the Polish provinces, thus keeping Austria on the alert along the line of 200 to 300 miles.

"While pushing temporarily advances in South Poland the Russians were forcing their way westward from Podolia and Besarabia upon Lemberg. When the Austrians finally realized these plans they attempted to turn the Russian left flank near Halicz, near the junction of the Galia Lipa river with the Dniester, and a sanguinary fight took place there (two days ago). The Austrians were signally defeated, losing 6000 killed and many prisoners, including one general, 32 guns, a shrapnel and quantities of supplies.

"Apparently the progress of the southern Russian army from Podolia in Galicia has been a series of fights on an increasing scale until a third river, known as the Foul Lipa, was reached. The fight for the possession of the valley of the Foul Lipa was severe. The Austrians had realized the strength of the Russians and had strongly fortified a naturally formidable position. This was carried after an obstinate fight. The Austrian force, a whole army corps, lost about half of its strength.

"These actions occupying the Russian left, her right still being in Russian territory. It is evident all the actions were part of a concerted movement with the surrounding of Lemberg as its objective, thus dealing a death blow to the Austrian defence."

CHARACTERS and scenes in "The Misleading Lady," a three act farce comedy, full of thrilling scenes and uproariously funny situations. This play has recently closed a successful season's run at the Fulton Theater, New York.

MLLE. VALKYRIEN.

Although this Danish beauty has seen but twenty summers, her career is crowded with romantic interest and adventure and crowned with brilliant achievement.

The second daughter of a Copenhagen merchant, Mlle. Valkyrien, or Arlele Fred, as she was then known, went on the stage at the age of sixteen. Within the four years which have elapsed since then, she has been a principal in the Royal Theatre of Copenhagen, honored by the King, chosen as "Valkyrie" of the nation, become the most famous star of all Europe and married a distinguished nobleman high in the service of her native land.

Her husband is Baron Hroff von Dett, lieutenant in the Royal Danish navy, whom she met while making a visit to the historic grave of Hamlet, near the Castle of Elsinore, in Denmark. It is said to have been a case of love at first sight on each side, the Baron pressing his suit so persistently that Mlle. Valkyrien forsook her professional career at the very height of her fame to become his wife.

Immediately after their marriage

MLLE. VALKYRIEN, DANISH ACTRESS.

This offer was refused, but fortunately the letter was retained, and when the decision to "come back" was reached, Mr. Horsley was the first producer to be considered, and received an offer from the Baroness on Saturday of last week. Mr. Horsley snapped it up like a flash and on Monday of this week she was rehearsing for her first tentative picture, under the direction of Milton Fahrney.

It is Mr. Horsley's intention to create a special brand of "Baroness films." This brand will be included in the recently announced program of seven comedies a week to be made at the Uppruder studios in Bayonne.

Previous to her entrance into the silent drama, Mlle. Valkyrien was a member of the regular company of the Royal Theatre in Copenhagen. This was an appointment by the Crown and is considered the highest honor in the realm next to lady-in-waiting to the Queen that can be achieved by a Danish woman, not of blood royal.

It was while appearing in the Royal Theatre that Mlle. Valkyrien was chosen by the King, as Valkyrie of Denmark. Contestants for this great honor are chosen by representatives of the Crown in every city in Denmark and are called to appear for selection at a special function at the Royal Theatre, the object being to find the woman who most thoroughly typifies the beauty and racial characteristics of the legendary Danes. Mlle. Valkyrien had created a Valkyrien dance especially for the occasion. The King was impressed with her talent as well as her beauty and conferred upon her the title of "Valkyrie," year of 1914, A. D. From that time until her departure for America, she was the toast of every cafe, club and home in Copenhagen.

Among the most pretentious book-lings secured by Manager Hartford for the present season is that of "The Misleading Lady," which is to be presented at the Portsmouth Theatre on Friday evening, Sept. 4th. "The Misleading Lady" is by Paul Dickey and Charles W. Goddard, and while classified as a farce comedy, it has plenty of melo-dramatic thrills. It secured a decided hit during its season's run at the Fulton Theatre, New York, and is now making its first road tour.

Immediately after the outbreak of hostilities between France and Germany, the Baron von Dett, who during his active military service was aviation expert of the Danish government and inventor of the device by which projectiles are dropped from aeroplanes, became "War officer" of one of the big New York daily papers. His work in this connection has become so exacting as to keep him at his desk from twelve to eighteen hours a day. In consequence the Baroness has been left without the companionship of her husband the greater part of the time, and as her short stay in this country has been very much in the nature of a honeymoon, she has had small opportunity to make new friends, she finds herself to be very much "alone in a strange land." In order to occupy her time and still off a threatening attack of homesickness, the young star resolved to return to active work in the studio and under the circumstances there was nothing for the Baron to do but consent.

David Horsley heard of Mlle. Valkyrien's great reputation during his visit to Denmark last summer and was much impressed with her work before the camera. When he saw the newspaper stories concerning the arrival in this country of the Baron and Baroness, he immediately sent the Baroness an offer to appear as the star in a big feature he then had in contemplation.

GERMANS STILL INACTIVE

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Reuters Telegram Company from Petrograd gives the following official announcement:

"The battle on the east front in Galicia was participated in by the 12 Austrian corps, which had only been transferred from the Roumanian frontier on Aug. 24. The Austrian army has been reinforced by numerous bodies of the landstorm."

"Our troops continue the offensive increasingly and our cavalry division has penetrated far into the interior of East Prussia, destroying means of communication. They have also occupied a station in the Koerscheh region and Soldan and Samsburg."

"The German forces remain inactive."

WIRES CZAR OF VICTORY

London, Sept. 3.—In a despatch from Petrograd, dated yesterday, the correspondent of the Times quotes the message of Grand Duke Nicholas to the Emperor on the Russian victory of Galicia as follows:

"I am happy to gladden your majesty with news of the victory won by the army of Gen. Ruzsky. After seven days of uninterrupted fighting the Austrians are retreating in complete disorder. In some cases they are running away and abandoning their guns, rifles, artillery, packs and baggage trains."

"Prior to this decisive battle Gen. Ruzsky's army captured in the course of the seven days 24 guns, a multitude of firearms and a great number of machine guns."

PARIS DEFIES INVADER

Paris, Sept. 3.—It is officially announced that Gen. Gallieni, commander of the army defending the city, today issued the following proclamation to the inhabitants of Paris:

"The members of the government of the republic have left Paris in order to give a new impetus to the defence of the nation. I have been ordered to defend Paris against the invader. This order I will so fill to the end."

(Signed) GALLIENI
Military Governor of Paris, Commanding the Army of Paris.
That Paris is expecting at least a partial siege was emphasized today when it was announced that Gen. Gallieni, who was appointed military governor of Paris last Saturday, has been given supreme authority over the entire defenses of Paris. He will not be interfered with by either the general staff or by Gen. Joffre, but will conduct the defensive operations as he sees fit.

Gallieni Real Hero
Gen. Gallieni is one of the real French heroes. Although long past the retirement age, he was kept on the active list by special order because of his rare ability. He is a veteran of the Franco-Prussian war and also saw service in Africa, Tonquin and Madagascar. As a strategist he is declared to stand in a class by himself and he knows more about the chains of fortifications surrounding Paris than any other living Frenchman.

SERBS PUT 140,000 AUSTRIANS
HORS DE COMBAT IN BATTLE

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 3.—A telegram from Nish, Serbia, says that in a battle at Jadar between 200,000 Austrians and 130,000 Serbians, the latter put 140,000 Austrians hors de combat.

CHARMING HOME WEDDING

—WILKES-BORTHWICK

The marriage of Miss Ora Eloise Borthwick, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Borthwick, of this city, and Mr. Gordon Hall Wilkes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Wilkes of Buffalo, N. Y., was solemnized on Thursday evening at the family residence 225 Wilbur street, and undoubtedly was one of the most attractive home weddings for a long time.

The friends of the couple both in town as well as from away, which included classmates, were prominent in the event and made it a merry one.

The decorations were carried out in the scheme of green and white and there were little charming touches impossible to any save a young people's affair, who so willingly and eagerly sacrifice time and energy to make a social event of this sort.

Six o'clock was the hour of the ceremony, and Rev. Lucius H. Thayer, D. D., of the North Congregational church, performed the impressive ring service.

It was a pink and white bridal party, the feature of which was the forming the line of the six bridesmaids, three on either side, charmingly gown in dainty white frocks with pink girdles, and each young lady carrying a basket of pink sweet peas, with showers of white satin ribbons.

Those acting as bridesmaids were Miss Miriam B. Wilkes of Buffalo, New York, Miss Herberta Torrey of Pasadena, California, Miss Marie Register, Miss Beatrice E. Hartford of this city, Miss Hetta C. Plant of Gardiner, Maine, and Miss Blanche I. Fisher of this city.

The maid of honor, Miss Frances

W. Varrell of Swarthmore, Pa., was prettily costumed in a gown of pink tulle over silk.

The bride herself was charming in her wedding gown, a rich creation of white Duchess satin, with trimmings of exquisite old lace.

The groom was attended by Mr. Lynn A. Loomis of Brookline, Mass., as his best man. The ushers were six in number, and consisted of the following young men: Mr. Edgar W. Taft of Gloucester, Mass., Mr. Charles B. Roulley of Brookline, Mass., Philip O. Badger, Ralph T. Wood, Warren Hayford and Philip Yeaton, all of this city.

A reception followed from 6.30 to 8.00 o'clock and Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes were assisted in receiving by their parents. A delightful collation was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes left on the 8.50 train to spend their honeymoon in Maine. The bride was attractively costumed in a traveling suit of old blue silk.

Upon their return they will take up their residence at 219 Norman Court, Brookline, Mass.

Mr. Wilkes is a Professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Miss Borthwick is a great favorite in the younger set. Many very pretty affairs have been given in her honor during the past season.

Miss Susan Borthwick rendered some delightful vocal solos, including Lohengrin's "Bridal Song," "I Love You Truly," "The Ring Upon My Finger" and "Long Ago."

Miss Amy Herrick played Lohengrin's Wedding March as the bridal procession advanced.

GIFT FROM COUNCIL.

James A. Borthwick Remembered on His Wedding Anniversary.

The members of the city council who met at the council chamber did not transact any business for the city on Thursday evening, but they were quite busy otherwise. The absence of one of the members, James A. Borthwick, on the occasion of the wedding of his daughter, brought to the mind of one of the four members present that it was the 25th anniversary of his own wedding, and his associates in the municipal body with Mayor Yeaton and City Clerk Drew invited his home on Wilbur street where Mayor Yeaton presented Mr. and Mrs. Borthwick with a costly and beautiful silver serving kettle. The surprise to the councilman was not a mild one and it was some time before he recovered his composure to be able to respond to the presentation words of Mayor Yeaton.

CITY NEWS

Quite an amusing incident occurred on State street a few days ago, when a party of ladies, evidently visitors ran into a delegation of small boys engaged in play in the way of soldiers. The boys, numbering about twenty-five, headed by Tommy Sanford, an captain, were rigged out in everything from a marine's cap to cast off regalia of secret orders. They had drums and swords galore and were marching up the street when one of the ladies interfered with the marching order by asking, "Where is the Aldrich Memorial?" Fifteen little voices answered in unison "Down on Court street." The ladies then inquired "What kind of an army is this, German or Prussian?" "Not on your life!" answered the juvenile commander; "this is an American army." And with his wooden cheese cutter waving in the air, he gave the order "forward march," with as much dignity as that of the late General Shuster of the United States Army. The lady who asked the question smiled and said to others in the party: "I might have known that." The visitors enjoyed the fun while it lasted and appeared to be in no hurry to reach the Aldrich Memorial as they watched the mimic army until it was out of sight.

Asst. Secretary F. D. Roosevelt of the Navy is expected to reach Portsmouth today or tomorrow. Would it not be a good plan for our citizens to approach him with the idea of having the U. S. S. Montana remain here for a while longer? The vessel, according to reports is expected to sail on Saturday, which is pay day for the crew. It is estimated that $30,000 will be distributed among the ship's company and if the vessel sails on the date mentioned, the city will lose no small amount of business, which naturally will go to Newport.

To add to this, the crew want to pass Labor Day here and it seems that it could be arranged to hold the cruiser a few days or a week for the benefit of the sailors and the merchants of Portsmouth.

The recent illuminated parade of the fleet of the Portsmouth Yacht Club, was such a decided success that the management will arrange for the event next year. It is assured that the parade of 1915 will be far superior to that of 1914.

One Portsmouth man who visited the Rockingham Fair at Salem, N. H., on the opening day, states that he never before saw so many automobiles and never expects to gaze on the same number again. The system of parking the machines there is perfect that he decided to make a count of one lot, which was exactly 1000. He estimates that there were three times that number scattered here and there on the grounds.
